A Time To Reminisce

Lebo High School
Lebo, Kansas

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of "71," dedicate our annual to Majorie Sheeley for the countless hours she has spent supervising our football and basketball concessions and helping plan menus for the Prom, Alumni Banquet, and many other dinners. She also served as co-sponsor our senior year.

Her philosophy of life and her helpful housekeeping hints have helped the girls of many senior classes. The assistance she has given us will always be appreciated.

Thank you, Mrs. Sheeley.

The main purpose of driver education is to make students more safety-conscious. Nearly anyone can learn to maneuver a car. The most important value that should be brought through driver education is the development of a good attitude toward driving and other drivers. If taking the course can be the means of saving even one person from serious injury or death, the course will have been worthwhile.

BEULAH EDWARDS

It is hoped that English students will form good speech and writing habits through daily practice and study, since ability to speak and write correctly is a mark of an educated person. Directed studies in literature also aim at teaching appreciation for leisure reading as well as ways of evaluating printed materials for informative reading. Reports, research papers, and themes are emphasized especially for college-bound students.

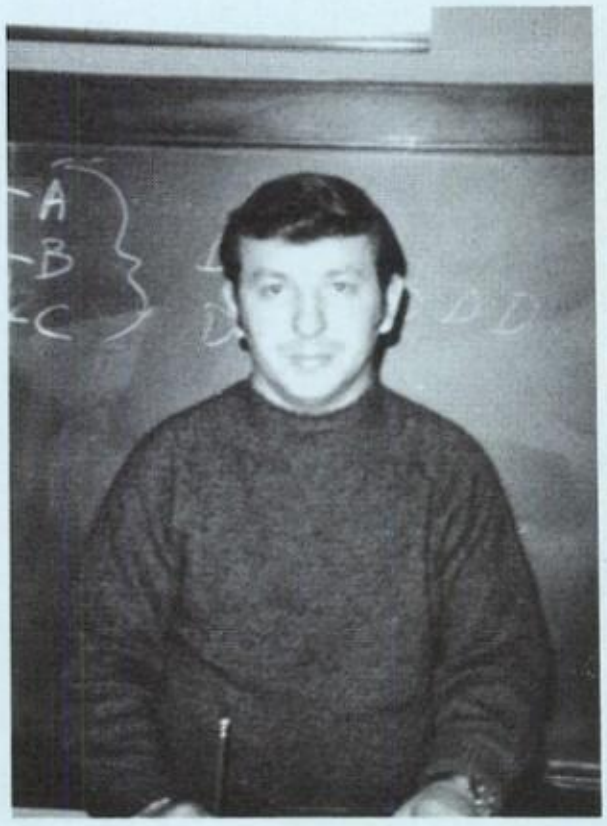
Mrs. Edwards sponsors the Annual each year and is co-sponsor of the junior class.

MARJORIE SHEELEY

It is the primary purpose of the Home Economics Department to introduce those enrolled to the seven areas of homemaking. Four years are taught; each year delves deeper into each area until the senior girls play the role of homemaker and consumer. We hope to prepare each girl to be a better homemaker and to be able to adjust to our changing society.

JERRY TEICHGRAEBER

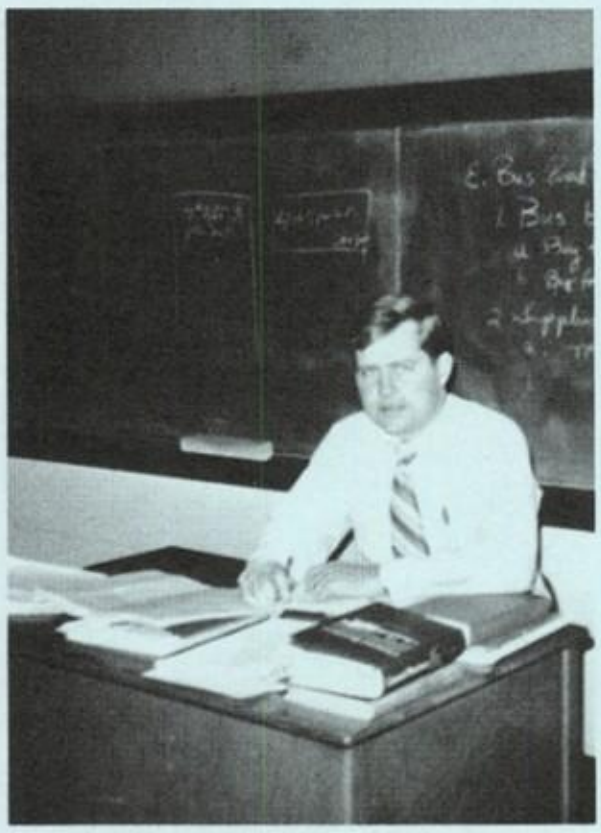
Mr. "T" has duties in both secondary and elementary. He teaches American history, the study of changing events in America since its discovery. World-geography, the study of geographical conditions in the world, is available to any students except freshmen. He also teaches freshman physical education. He teaches elementary physical education for grades one through six. Mr. "T" is head coach of football, basketball, track, and sponsors "L" Club. He also sponsors the class of 1972.



JACK SHOEMAKER

The Science Department courses include chemistry, biology, earth science, and physics. Mr. Shoemaker also teaches American government. Chemistry deals with the structures and composition of materials and their changes. Biology is concerned with living things, their structure, life processes, and environment. Earth science is the study of the earth itself and its place in the universe. Physics is concerned primarily with the study of matter and energy seeking to explain the behavior and inter-relationships of matter and energy in the universe. American government is concerned with the State with respect to all details of population, territory, sovereignty, location and political intercourse.

Mr. Shoemaker sponsors the sophomore class and is the official scorekeeper at basketball games.



TOM OWENS

The Business Department seeks to prepare individuals to meet, with confidence, business matters that may arise in their everyday living. General business, business law, and economics give students a well-rounded picture of the business world.

Typewriting, shorthand, and bookkeeping are more vocational in nature. Although a student is not job qualified after completing these three courses, he does have the fundamentals to excell in post-secondary courses which are job orientated.

The Future Business Leaders of America chapter has come to be recognized as one of the leading chapters in the state. FBLA promotes leadership and competition in a wide range of business-related subjects.

DENNIS POLSON

Vocational agriculture education is a learning-by-doing, instructional program preparing manpower for careers in farming, agricultural supply and service, agricultural mechanics, processing, and agricultural resources. The FFA helps develop agricultural leadership, co-operation and citizenship in its members. Speaking in public, handling financial matters, solving their own problems, and assuming civic responsibility are activities stressed in FFA.

ELIZABETH ROULAND

Mathematics develops knowledge and skill in solving practical math problems. Algebra is the study of the systems of real and complex numbers. Geometry is the study of points, lines, planes, and solids.

FAYE MILLER

Speech provides the student with the opportunity to learn effective oral communication through speeches, plays, oral interpretation of prose and poetry, and group discussions. The vocal music department offers opportunities for interested students to develop their musical ability. Student Council offers elected students a learning opportunity in leadership through involvement in their school's activities.

MARIE DAVIES

Hopefully, the library supplies "Resources for Human Understanding," supplemental to courses offered, and for independent study, exploration and enjoyment. The library assists students, teachers, and classes to secure desired information.

JANE LEWIS

Jane Lewis taught instrumental music while Mr. Phillips was serving military duty.

JAMES PHILLIPS

Instrumental music includes band, stage band, woodwind ensembles, and brass choir. The high school band covers as much different music as possible in two semesters time, including popular, show tunes, marches, and serious music. Students have a chance to experience all types of music. Stage band plays another important role–jazz. Being of American heritage, jazz is also emphasized, so a student may learn some of the music that grew up with this country. The woodwind ensembles and brass choir are important because it is easier to learn about one's playing through small group participation. The student will also find greater development through these mediums. A music theory class is in existence. In it, ear-training, music history, score reading, and conducting are touched upon.

MARYANN RASTATTER

Buenos días. ¿Cómo está usted? These are the familiar phrases which emanate each morning from the east end of the second floor. It is there that Mrs. Rastatter conducts her classes in elementary and intermediate Spanish where sophomore, junior, and senior students are engaged in learning something about Spain's language and culture.

December 19, 1955
April 16, 1971

I miss you already
You good friend of mine;
Yet I know that you're safe
And everything's fine.

You left us too soon
You silly girl you;
It's lonely down here
And I can't help feeling blue.

You were always around
When I needed your help;
Wish I could see you
Take care of yourself.

I try not to cry
I'm holding back the tears;
Yet I'm still wondering why
And we all want you here.

We had great times together
Never missing a day;
Through all kinds of weather
We went on our way.

I can feel that you're with me
But I can't see your face;
Such a pretty one,
I'll never erase.

Until I meet you again
At that great golden gate;
'Till my day comes
I'll just have to wait.

Organization Projects

Once again this year the Senior Y-Teens collected for the Kansas Children's Service League. The League provides child and unwed-mother services, adoption service, foster care, and unwed-parent counseling to any Kansans.

The Lebo Chapter of the Future Farmers of America participated in the National FFA Week, March 21-27. The members worked on a community clean-up project. Several of the members attended a Farm Show at Kansas City on March 24. On March 21 the chapter attended church services at the Lebo United Methodist Church.

The Future Business Leaders of America sponsored an Easter Egg Hunt for children pre-school age through third grade. Each child made an Easter bonnet. After the bonnets were judged, the children hunted the Easter eggs. For every white egg found, a nickel reward was given.

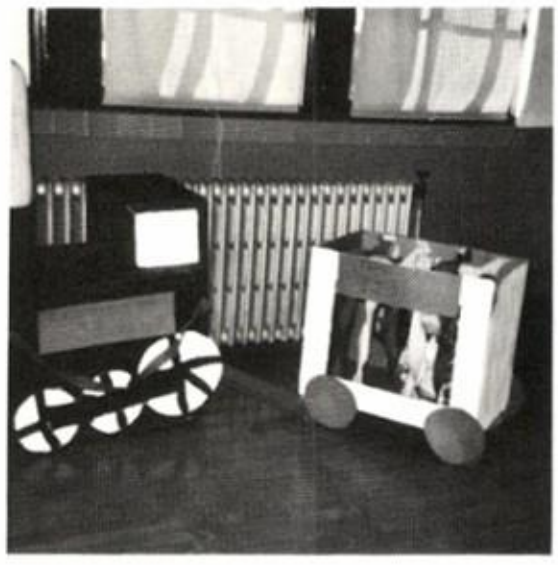
Corwin Miller and Peter Allegre were selected to attend Student Council Workshop at Kansas University, Lawrence, in August. While attending the Student Council Seminar they were favored by listening to Earl Reum, the guest speaker from Denver, Colorado schools. The workshop lasted for five days and many ideas were passed on to the students from workshop advisors.

Each fall the Student Council members take a trip to Iola for Student Council Day. Here they meet with other Council members to discuss school problems and how to solve them. Also ideas are exchanged on service projects and money raising ventures.

Stuco Activities



The Student Council sponsored a float contest at regional tournament time to promote school spirit; each class participated.

This year Lebo experimented with an Intra-League StuCo. Students from Lyndon, Burlingame, Pamona, Melvern, Williamsburg and Lebo's Student Councils met several times. At the end of the year the I-L Council sponsored a dance at Pamona.

Many agreed that StuCo Day this year was the most rewarding ever. Current events were discussed which let people express their opinions on today's prominent problems. Election day went off with its usual vigor and the officers for the new year were installed.

StuCo Service Projects

Tom Dooley

February, 1971

Dear Student Council President:

A year ago we members of Saginaw Youth Council asked our fellow students the country over to help us carry on the spirit and mission of the late Dr. Tom Dooley.

Today, as we renew our appeal, an estimated 60,000 students have responded. . . many thousands of them by contributing the cost of a school lunch.

On desposit with the Dooley Foundation is $20,000, the total of these contributions!

Now we're appealing to you and your school to help us FINISH IT FOR DOOLEY. We're appealing to you and your school to help us raise the additional $80,000 needed...to build, equip, staff and operate for one year a hospital ship for the Dooley Foundation in Southeast Asia.

The ship will be named YOUTH AMERICA and on its cabin wall will be inscribed the name of every contributing school. It will be our generation of students telling the world Young America cares...not only about helping the poor and helpless, but also about carrying on the spirit of a young man who cared more than most and who sacrificed more than most.

We're asking your school to help FINISH IT FOR DOOLEY. We're asking that April 6 be set aside as FINISH IT FOR DOOLEY Day and on that day students be invited to give up their lunch and contribute its cost to the project. We also are asking schools to help their students and community become acquainted with Dr. Tom Dooley and his mission to the world's poor.

Will you help us get the ball rolling for Dooley in your school? Please let us know soon so that we can pass on the good news to others who may need the encouragement of example. The enclosures include a registration form and details of the project.

Sincerely,

Marty Quinnan

Home Economics

The Freshman girls held their Halloween party at Sheeley's Cabin. They each invited another girl to attend. Each one had to wear a costume.

The Freshman girls made "Raggedy Anns" and "Raggedy Andys" for their Christmas project.

Marilyn Edwards was the recipient of the Betty Crocker Award for 1970-71.

The Kindergarten enjoyed the ABC party given by the Senior girls.

Sharyl read them a story while the other girls prepared the refreshments.

Everyone enjoyed the games that were played and the refreshments served by the hostesses.

Style Review

Vicki Busboom and Sharyl Hutchinson emcee the style show.

The Freshman girls model their first projects that they made.

The Sophomore girls model one of their two outfits.

These are the formals that Linda Ann and Diana made for the prom.

The Junior girls are wearing one of their five projects made in Home Ec.

Mrs. Sheeley, Gail, and Kara prepare the table.

Gayle Linhart received the Crisco Award.

Home Ec. Vo. Ag. Exchange

For the first time, the Home Economics Department and the Vocational Agriculture Department asked to switch classes for one week. The girls tried to learn how to milk a cow, start a car with jumper cables, and did leather tooling. The boys did some cooking, learned to sew on buttons, learned to iron, and learned how to pack a suitcase. It was a rewarding experience for everyone.

LINCOLN DEE HODGES
January 8, 1964—May 4, 1971

"I meant to do my work to-day—
But a brown bird sang in the apple-tree,
And a butterfly flitted across the field,
And all the leaves were calling me.

And the wind went sighing over the land.
Tossing the grasses to and fro,
And a rainbow held out its shining hand—
So what could I do but laugh and go?"—LaGallienne
